FROM THE CAP'N

nuqneH. Yeah, this issue is a little late. I hope the holidays didn't take too much wind from your sails. Me, I love the holidays, but always hate to see it over. I get a little down, but I found a magical elixir called "alcohol" that helps me through the cold winter months. Not to mention a stockpile of summer sausage, nuts, pretzels, Wolf brand chili, and all the fixings to go with the beer. I've been trying different beers and while I think I'm not ready for the "big boy" beers, I have been enjoying a few beers that are more well known. MGD, Red Dog, and Shiner Bock are the three I keep going back to. D'nise likes Zima. I don't mind it if there is nothing else to drink or I don't feel like drinking a beer. It's a little good for the hair o' the dog the next morning too.

So yes, this issue is dedicated to drinking in the Klingon culture. I have some info on Klingon Bloodwine, Warnog, and a few other drinks that contain alcohol and a few that don't (you know for those times when you're the D.D.). I have been collecting this info for a while and I think you guys will enjoy reading through this issue. I wish I could laminate it for you guys as I'm sure you'll want to use the recipes, but are afraid to get the pages wet. But, I don't have access to one of those machines and shipping would be too much since I can't bend them and send them like I normally do.

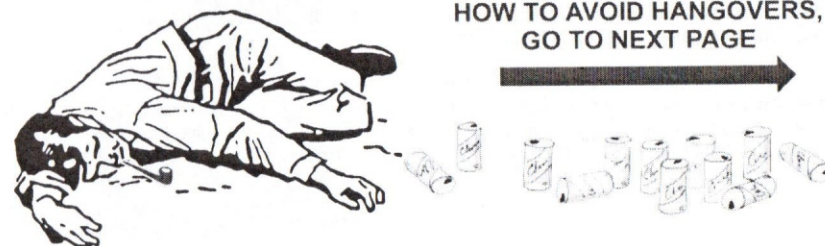

An old man once told me that "it might be fun to drink until you puke the first few times, but you need to learn how to drink in moderation and slowly get that buzz. There is no prize in drinking too much at once. Just a headache, vomit, and shame." Because of that, I also will be including a few hang-over cures that I have heard of or tried myself. Hopefully it will help you from seeing the inside of your stomach in the morning.

I found some great clip art here at the college that I'm using as new fodder for our rag. I hope you enjoy them as much as I enjoyed making them. I'm getting very good at this computer design, I think I'm going to enjoy doing it for a living. So start seeing K'Bob and other SlaQ related images and other tom-foolery. Don't forget to report in, some of you missed your deadline.

For the EMPIRE!

DEPT. REPORTS

The following reports were given at the last two meetings and transcribed to be recorded here in Maximum Overkill.

XO: Everything is still A-OK here, Cap'n. I have MST3K and Klingon episodes to share with members. - Kamarag

Communications: Nothing from High Command. CFT Admiral is asking for current roster (again). - Khara

Navigation/Helm: Coordinates to the nearest liquor store keyed in and ready for instructions. - Krudge

Engineering: Engines primed and ready. - Kilrah

Weapons: All weapons secure, ready to drink Cap'n. - Koron

Uncle Kahn's Hangover Cures.

So you drank too much huh? Well, it happens. But what do you do when you wake up and start looking for that cat that shit in your mouth? How could you have prevented the Technicolor yawn and pounding headache.

First of all, to prevent a hangover is to drink in moderation. After each beer, drink at least a cup of water afterward. This is good advise if you are planning on drinking a lot. You might go to the bathroom more often, but hey, I would rather pee than puke.

Before you go to bed (that is you haven't passed out), drink a really big glass of water and take a few Ibuprofen pills. I have found this to help with any possible headaches from not drinking enough water or when I have to get up in the middle of the night to pee and your head is pounding because you are sobering up.

So what happens when you neglected most or all of those above tips?

Some people swear by menudo. Me, I can't stand the smell. So try that if you can. What I have found to be the best hangover cure will involve getting out of the house, so grab those heavy shades. I make my way to Jack-In-The-Box and order an Ultimate Cheeseburger combo, a breakfast jack (or two), two tacos, and I fill my drink up with Surge soda. Surge really helps, but if you can't get that, drink Gatorade for the rest of the day. Koron and Khaless can attest that this is not only the best tasting hangover cure, but a cheap one to boot. If I don't have enough money or I don't want to get out of the house, I make a garden omelet. Yes, I cook. I chop up onions and peppers (or if I'm lazy I'll pour Pace on it after it's cooked), sherd some cheese and mix it with two eggs. I pour it all into a buttered cast iron skillet and let it sit on low. I slowly poke the edge of the egg and move the skillet back and forth to make sure it doesn't stick. After it's all congealed, I dump it on a plate and add anything else I might want. I have done this with sardines, but can't tell you if you'd like it or not.

The only other way I know to help kill a hangover is Alka-seltzer. If it was good enough for grandpa, it's good enough for me. Just remember, we are technically poisoning ourselves when we drink. If you remember to drink slower and drink more water, you shouldn't have any problems. Just think, you can be that guy who everyone looks up to because you can hold your own.

tlhutlh!

(Drink)

Klingon warriors are known for drinking, and the drink of choice is bloodwine. But what is Klingon bloodline? It has been said that bloodwine is not for the faint of heart. Bloodwine is known to be highly intoxicating, to the point that most non-Klingons are scarcely capable of tolerating it; it is twice as potent as Terran whiskey. Klingons love it served warm and either from the bottle or in a large vat so that they can dip their mugs into. Many Klingon captains carry a few barrels of the finest vintage bloodwine, either from their own house or from a trusted ally. As for the make up of bloodwine, it's unknown if it actually contains blood or not. One rumor is that bloodwine is made from a fruit or root of a plant that "bleeds" the main ingredient that is distilled in making the alcoholic beverage.

So how can you make your own batch to serve to guests or to bring to parties? Well, Michael Dorn mentioned in an interview that the bloodwine used in the show was actually fruit punch with red food coloring in it to make it darker. But we want to get drunk on this. So after searching newsletters and cyberspace, I found a few that I feel that you guys and gals will enjoy. Let's get started.

BLOODWINE (Alcoholic)

Ingredients:

8 oz Firewater
6 oz Everclear (the full strength stuff)
6 oz triple sec
6 oz white tequila
3 drops green food coloring
6 drops red food coloring

Chech'tluth (Alcoholic)

Ingredients:

1 Shot Bourbon
1 Shot Bourbon, Seagrams Seven
3 Shots Gin
4 Shots Soda
1 Shot Soda Peppermint Schnapps
1 Shot Soda Walker Red Label
1 Pinch Cinnamon, Powder

Preparation:

My suggestions for making this beverage steam involve using a fresh (read "brand new") food safe sponge or a tea strainer (minus handle) to trap the dry ice at the bottom of the cup. If using a sponge, cut it larger than the bottom of the cup, along with small holes to allow the vapors to escape without allowing the ice to accidentally be consumed. The sponge would be pressed in over the top of the cup after the dry ice has been placed inside. Then the liqueurs would be added.

Add all of Ingredients in order. Drink... Carefully.

BLOODWINE (Alcoholic-Sweet Version)
Equal parts Carlo Rossi Sangria & Kern's Peach Nectar

WARNOG(Alcoholic)

6 lbs. Malt Extract Light
1 lbs 50L Crystal Malt
1oz Galena Hops
1oz E Kent Goldings Hops
1oz Saaz Hops
1pkg Wyeast Labs London Ale Yeast (Wyeast is run by Klingons in disguise)

Preparation:

Take grain, and place in hop sock. Add 5 gallons water to pot. Steep grain until water is near boiling. Add in malt extract and stir constantly to prevent scorching. When water reaches a rolling boil, add Galena hops. After 30 min of boiling add E. Kent Goldings Hops, wait 15 min to add the Saaz hops and Irish moss. After an additional 15 min (1 hour total boiling time), remove beer from stove and cool. It is recommended that a wort chiller be used for this, but a freezer will work as well. NOTE: It is extremely important to cool the beer quickly.

Once the beer is cool, transfer to a fermenter and add the yeast. You should have strong fermentation in 12-24 hours.

Cardassian Kanar (Alcoholic)

1 oz. Black Sun Vodka (to get the black color)
1 oz. Gin
1 oz. Tequila
1 oz. Grand Marnier
1 oz. Baccardi Rum
5 oz. Coke
Lemon Juice
Black food coloring (optional)
Pectin, Starch, or Thick-It*

Preparation:

Mix ingredients together, carefully experimenting with the pectin, starch or Thick-It to get the right consistency

This recipe is similar to Long Island Iced Tea, but it apparently tastes completely different *Thick-It is a product for Dysphagia, and other swallowing disorders, found at pharmacies, it is supposed to be colorless, odorless, and tasteless.

Cuervo Gold Tequila (or other gold tequila)
Southern Comfort
1 shot glass (preferably double)

Blending Instructions:
Pour the shot glass half-full of gold tequila. SLOWLY pour in Southern Comfort on top until glass is full. Wait until liquids have merged.

KLINGON GROG (Alcoholic)
3 oz Overproof Rum
1 oz Orange Juice
1 oz Pineapple Juice
1 oz Passion Fruit Nectar
1 Dash Angostura Bitters
1/2 Cup Cracked Ice

Blending Instructions:
Mix Ingredients in Blender or Shaker, pour into Beer Mug half filled with Cracked Ice, add Olive, serve with Straw.

RAKATJINO (Alcoholic)
1 serving
6-8 oz fresh coffee, regular or decaf
1 shot coffee liquor
1 shot chocolate liquor

Romulan Ale #1 (Alcoholic)

In a tall glass with ice add
1/2 oz. Rum
1/2 oz. Gin
1/2 oz. Vodka
1/2 oz. Blue Curacao
Fill with Sprite

Preparation:

Now, it will be bubbly from the Sprite (And in the shows/movies it looks flat) but water weakens the flavor. Also, it might not be blue enough to be a true Romulan Ale color, you can add a drop or two of blue food coloring...but so far, I've had no complaints about the drink yet.

Romulan Ale #2 (Alcoholic)

Ingredients:

3/8 pint of white rum
1/2 tsp. of lemon flavoring
1/2 tsp. of banana flavoring
Or
1/4 tsp. of orange flavoring
Drop of blue coloring

Preparation:

Mix with a spoon until the blue has completely diluted the concoction. Drink and Enjoy!

Romulan Ale #3 (Alcoholic)

Ingredients:

1 shot Bacardi White
1 shot Stolichnaya Vodka
1 shot Apricot Brandy (we used Peach Schnapps)
1 shot Blue Curacao
1 shot Orange Juice
1 shot Pineapple Juice
1 shot Collins Mix (which might give it a slight fizz)
w/cracked (or crushed) ice and mix in a mixer.
(for your tera'nganpu out there)

Necti (Alcoholic)

1 oz Everclear
1 oz Gin
1 oz Vodka
3 oz Blue Gatoraide

Serve in Highball Glass

Romulan Cola (Alcoholic)

2 oz Vodka
2 Dashes Orange Bitters
Coke

Combine and serve over ice cubes in tall glass

Saurian Brandy (Alcoholic)

1/4 Cup Grated Orange Rind
1 Pint 100 Proof Vodka
1 Cup Sugar
2/3 Cup pure Maple Syrup

Put orange rind in a half-pint jar with 1/4 cup vodka, seal it and shake occasionally. Let it steep overnight. Pour sugar and 1 2/3 cups vodka into a 28 ounce bottle, seal it and shake until all the sugar is dissolved, and then add the maple syrup. Filter the orange extract through a fine handkerchief or coffee filter until it becomes clear, add a tablespoon of the final extract to the vodka syrup mixture and mix well.

If your orange peels are much more or less aromatic than average, adjust the quantity so that you have enough to hide the maple flavor, without having enough to make the liqueur bitter or recognizably orange flavored.

Tranya (Alcoholic)

1 can (46oz) apricot nectar
1 can frozen lemonade concentrate
1 cups water
10 whole cloves
2 cinnamon sticks (or 1 tsp cinnamon)
10-12 tsp butter
1 oz rum

In saucepan, combine apricot nectar, lemonade concentrate, water, cloves, and cinnamon. Bring to a boil and then reduce heat. Cover and simmer for 10-15 minutes. Remove cloves and cinnamon.

Serve each serving in a coffee mug, stirring 1 teaspoon butter into each serving. Stir one ounce of rum into each serving before adding the butter to add additional 'punch.'
